

GRAHAM ALBUTT

 Partner Emeritus, USA

 albutt@exetor.com

With over twenty-five years in international general management, operations, and financial transactions, Graham brings a breadth and depth of expertise to Exetor. He has had significant, successful global P&L responsibility in highly complex service businesses with a focus on the Financial Markets. He has held a variety of positions both in America and the UK, and has had profit and loss responsibility for both regional and international $1 billion businesses. He is a leader with a blend of strategic vision and target achievement, and an ability to inspire high performing teams to exceed business goals. He has in depth knowledge of executing on acquisitions and disposals and has successfully led four global integrations of acquisitions.

Graham's roles at Reuters included the creation and operation of a global accounts function, leadership of the American business, and product creation for specific markets. He has delivered fundamental business transformation, including margin growth amid market consolidation and product creation to meet new market opportunities and changes. He is on the board of publicly traded and private companies.

Degree and Certifications

- BRNC Dartmouth – Naval Officer Training
- B.Sc. Systems and Management, The City University London (1st Class Honors)
- Executive Management Program - University of Michigan and INSEAD
- CLA, Firo-B, LCP, LCP Pulse, MBTI Certified

Graham's proven ability to lead and inspire high performing teams to exceed business goals is directly relevant to Exetor's work with executive management teams.