

SUSANNE CORBELLA

 Operations Team, ITALY

 corbella@exetor.com

Susanne joined The Exetor Group's operational team in 2019. She provides a large range of experience in organization, assistance and communication from different fields and in multicultural contexts.

Susanne is a German national and has studied and worked several years in France and China. She has been living in Northern Italy since 2015. She taught German at schools and university, worked for an eyewear manufacturer as well as for a classical conductor. In the last 20 years she has worked in various projects, e.g. for event agencies, on trade fairs, coordinating a software implementation including testing and training or assisting an IT team in the organization of a SAP project. Employers and clients value her capacity to immerse herself in projects, her detailed work, high reliability and flexibility, language skills and desire to have every project realized in the best way.

Degree and Certifications

- Master in Romance studies at Université Val-de-Marne Paris XII, France
- State exams (teaching license) in French and German at Université Val-de-Marne Paris XII, France

Susanne is an excellent addition to the Exetor team, bringing in curiosity and effectiveness, technical and language skills paired with proactive and analytical thinking.
