

VOLKER RÖNICKE

 Global Practitioner,
Germany

 roenicke@exetorgroup.com

Volker is passionate about enabling leaders to unlock their hidden leadership potential as key lever for continuously achieving outstanding business outcomes in a digitally accelerated VUCA world.

As a former Partner with Booz & Company Volker brings in 20 years of experience in enabling success of individual leaders and teams in a highly dynamic and challenging business context. His fundamental expertise as a strategic advisor to senior leaders in combination with his broad general management consulting expertise in problem solving, large scale business transformation, organizational change, and capability building seamlessly enriches Exetor's ability to design and deliver tailored intervention that change mindsets and behaviors for strong business impact.

Volker started his career in guiding scientific teams in big pharma and biotech companies. At Booz & Company, he got acquainted with guiding content-rich consulting teams to enable clients' success in various industries on a global basis. He supported leaders in client organizations from family owned enterprises over pre-IPO, mid-sized public to global top10 players. In that context Volker gained work experience in Europe, US, Asia, and Middle East. He had the opportunity to experience and embrace the cultural differences in these geographies to better calibrate what is required for inclusive strategy development and sustainable business impact on a truly global basis.

Degree and Certifications

- Executive Coach and Leadership Consultant
- MBA with Major in Finance, Heriot-Watt University, Edinburgh
- PhD Molecular & Cell Biology/ Biomedical Sciences, Max-Planck Society/ University Marburg
- LCP, MBTI, NeuroColor Certified

Volker's combined experience in strategy design and leadership development for tangible business outcomes enriches Exetor's capability to truly enable clients' growth aspiration.